

Janet Jackson's Manhattan Home near Central Park Seeks $8.995M; Miami Lending Firm Offers Crypto Mortgages

May 5, 2022 | By: Ameena Walker

The facade and entry tunnel at Post House in Brooklyn, NY. (Photo Credit: Post House)

Post House, Brooklyn's Boutique Condominium, Launches Sales from $999,000

Post House, a ground-up luxury condominium in Brooklyn's Boerum Hill neighborhood, has launched sales on its 41 residences. The 11-story building features one- to four-bedroom apartments and two half-floor penthouses, with prices starting at $999,000.

Renowned Isaac & Stern Architects partnered with Workshop/APD to craft a contemporary art-deco structure with arches, curved ceilings, and geometric shapes on the former site of a post office. Residences feature lightly distressed white oak floors, divided-light windows, warm textured brass accents, and clean white marble.

Many of the homes feature private balconies, terraces, and double-height covered loggias that give residents stunning panoramic views of the East River and surrounding neighborhoods. The amenities package at Post House includes a residents' lounge with a custom greenhouse, a private courtyard, a fitness center, a pet spa, a children's playroom, and a landscaped roof deck with an outdoor gym and dining areas. First closings are expected to commence in early 2023.

The amenity lounge and courtyard in Post House in Brooklyn, NY. (Photo Credit: Post House)